he found that when he withdrew alcohol bottles from the rats for a few days or weeks, the rats returned to them with more determination—and thirst—than ever before

he found that when he withdrew alcohol bottles from the rats for a few days or weeks, the rats returned to
them with more determination—and thirst—than ever before